

LETTER TO HEALTH CARE PROVIDER(S)

CONFIDENTIAL

RE: [Employee Name]

Dear [Health Care Provider]:

I have submitted a request for a reasonable accommodation to my employer under the Americans with Disabilities Act. The law allows my employer to conduct an individual assessment of my condition¹ before granting or denying a request for accommodation. Please review your files and respond to the listed questions to assist my employer in undertaking that assessment.

1. What is your diagnosis of my physical and/or mental health condition(s), per the International Classification of Diseases (ICD 10) or Diagnostic and Statistical Manual (DSM IV)?

2. Comparing me to the average person in the general population, please identify each major life activity² that is substantially limited by my health condition(s). Please indicate how and to what extent each major life activity is limited. Specify the functional limitations. (Quantify where possible. ie how far, how long, how much)

¹ The Statutory Definition of disability is a person with a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more of the major life activities of such individual. 42 U.S.C. § 12102(2); see also 29 C.F.R. § 1630.2(g).

² According to the Americans with Disabilities Amendment Act, Major life activities may include , but are not limited to, caring for oneself, performing manual tasks, seeing, hearing, eating, sleeping, walking, standing, lifting, bending, speaking, breathing, learning, reading, concentrating, thinking, communicating, working, and major bodily functions. Major bodily functions include but are not limited to, functions of the immune system, normal cell growth, digestive, bowel, bladder, neurological, brain, respiratory, circulatory, endocrine, and reproductive functions. Public Law 110–325—Sept. 25, 2008. This is not an exhaustive list of all major life activities. Rather, it is representative of the types of activities that are major life activities. Similar activities in terms of their impact on an individual's functioning, as compared to the average person, may also be major life activities.

3. Describe the detrimental effects of all of the mitigating measures, e.g., medication, therapy, assistive devices, as they affect my participation in, or performance of the above identified major life activities, compared the average person in the general population.

4. Prognosis: Are my impairments and/or limitations permanent, or will there be changes over time? Please describe any anticipated changes and include the bases for your opinions.

5. According to my employer, I am required to perform the following essential functions relative to my current position as a [job title]:
 - [Accurately list (or attach a copy of) all genuine essential functions]

6. Please provide your opinion concerning my ability to perform the essential functions³ of my position, given your diagnosis and prognosis of my health condition(s)? Please include the facts and pertinent health information that support your opinion.

7. In your opinion, what accommodations, if any, will enable me to perform the essential functions of my employment position? Please indicate how your recommended accommodations will assist me in performing those essential functions.

³ The U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission has indicated that an employer never has to remove an essential function of the job as an accommodation. Additionally, an employee with a disability must meet the same performance and production standards, whether quantitative or qualitative, as a non-disabled employee in the same job. Lowering or changing a production standard because an employee cannot meet it due to a disability is not considered a reasonable accommodation. Similarly, an employee who is chronically, frequently, and unpredictably absent may not be able to perform one or more essential functions of the job, or the employer may be able to demonstrate that any accommodation would impose an undue hardship, thus rendering the employee unqualified. Employers generally do not have to accommodate repeated instances of tardiness or absenteeism that occur with some frequency, over an extended period of time and often without advance notice. The Americans with Disabilities Act: Applying Performance and Conduct Standards To Employees With Disabilities.

8. If my condition is episodic or in remission, please identify and detail the nature, frequency, severity and duration of anticipated future episodes. Please detail accommodations that may help me to perform the essential functions of my position.

9. Please indicate the potential effectiveness and reasoning for each of the following accommodations. (List potential accommodations line by line)

Please feel free to provide any additional comments you believe might be helpful in determining what accommodation(s) might be appropriate. Thank you for your time and assistance.

Sincerely,
[Employee]
